Voters! Give us intelligent magistrates.

Let fairness be our motto in the coming convention.

Announcements for Congress in this district are now in order.

Bill Dalton for the ninth time has "turned his toes to the daisies".

Of course we will now know what action the Executive Committee of Maury will take.

As long as manufacturers insist on hiring foreign pauper labor, they should have to contend with strikes.

The democratic papers of the State seem to be almost a unit in their support for Gov. Turney's re-election.

The Democratic nominees for our County offices are good men, and well qualified. It is the duty of every Democrat to support them.

Lawrence County should be well represented at the Tennessee Centennial. For Lawrence can make a fine show at any exhibition.

The real identity of Vivian Grey, has been learned. He is the son of the Earl of Chatham. There will be no doubt now as to him making the trip and returning with the amount of the wager or an american feather either.

The Democratic Executive Committee, have said that we shall select our delegates by a mass convention. We hope each district will be well represented here on that day, and that fairness will be shown to every candidate that is before the convention.

A Mass Meeting Call for June 30, by our Executive Committee.

The Democratic Executive Committee met in the court house on Saturday last with a quorum present. S. L. Yarbrough Chairman presiding.

A resolution was introduced and passed calling a mass meeting in this place on June 30, at which time a list of delegates will be made up to represent this county in the Convention which assembles here July 5th to nominate a candidate for attorney general.

Let the mass meeting be a rouser from Marcella Falls to Wayland Springs, from Powder Mill hill to the Wayne county line.

Come out every democrat. Remember the date—June 30.

Chancellor Abernathy.

At a meeting of the bar of Lawrenceburg, on Thursday, June 14, 1894, Hon. J. A. Simms was called to the chair and W. A. Stewart was made secretary. The chairman, in a few well chosen words, stating the object of the meeting, when the following resolution were offered by J. B. Bond, Esq. and were unanimously adopted:

Resolved 1st, That this being the last term of the court to be held at this place, under the Hon. Andrew J. Abernathy's commission as chancellor of this division before another election, we take this opportunity of expressing our high esteem for and confidence in him as chancellor. We cheerfully bear testimony to his high character as a judge, an honest man and a christian gentleman. He carries with him our warmest feelings of appreciation for the uniform urbanity of his conduct on and off the bench and our cordial support for his re-election.

Resolved, 2nd, That these resolutions be engrossed by the clerk and master and a copy furnished the chancellor and also to the Lawrenceburg newspapers.

J. A. Simms, Chairman.

W. A. Stewart, Secy.

TERSE, TART AND TIMELY.

Congress has done many things not deserving of being commended, but nothing that deserves the awful punishment of having Mrs. Leas for a member.

It looks as though there were democratic Senators, as well as republicans, who are not overburdened with anxiety to get the tariff bill passed.

The man who wants to settle with his creditors at 25 cents on the dollar always has financial advice to give away.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster is inviting trouble by invading the domain of Mrs. Marry Leas. If these two female ecologists should meet the shock would be felt in Europe. Keep 'em apart.

The administration seems to be holding its own, and even getting something from the other fellows, not withstanding numerous attempts made by those who call themselves democrats to rip it up the back.

The editor of the New York Sun has been worrying because the Southern Congressmen all come from the country or small villages and towns, just as though residence in a big city was the only way to acquire brains.

It doesn't seem to have occurred to anybody that those Washington correspondents refused to tell because they don't know any more to tell.

T. C. Crawford, once a brilliant writer on political fairy tales at the National Capital, is utilizing his remarkable imagination in writing occult romances.

A big strike usually puts the quality of the Governor's backbone to the test. Mat. Quay took the trouble to deny that he was a candidate for the republican Presidential nomination. It was entirely unnecessary. The republican party would never make the stupid blunder of nominating a man as unfit for the position as Quay is.

The republicans are making a concerted effort to befuddle the silver question, in order to make votes in the West.

Some of the women suffragists must believe with the German scientists who say that 3990 years from now there will be 220 women to each man in the world.

If our naval vessels could keep up the pace they set on trials trips when premiums are at stake we should have the speediest navy in the world.

Senator Sherman was very kind to endorse the financial plank of the Ohio republican platform, which he probably wrote himself.

The big-as-hen's-eggs hail stones will have to take back seats when compared with the Austrian hail storms that broke the legs of two hundred people and flooded the country adjacent to the river Danube.

The cholera has begun its season's work in Europe with a vigor that calls for vigilance on the part of American health officials.

Justice White, of the Supreme Court denies that he was married the other day, although description of the event were published in some newspaper. The Justice certainly is in the best position to know.

A Massachusetts rural preacher is accused of having used his pulpit to advertise a bicycle maker. It isn't the first time a Massachusetts pulpit has been used for worldly purposes.

The republican party as a whole is quite as friendly to silver as a cat is to a mouse.

The women suffrage agitation in New York has reached the Bible quotation period.

CONGRESS.

SENATE, June 22.—Mr. Sherman opened the second day's debate on the tariff bill. He made an earnest argument against free wool as a matter that would result in the destruction of the wool growing industry of the country and would be the "eliminating strictly of the bill." He was followed on the same side of the question by Senators Dubois, Stewart, Hansbrough and Mitchell.

HOUSE.—The session was devoted to the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill and eleven pages were disposed of. Several slight amendments were made to the text, chiefly in the way of changing appropriations for the support and civilization of certain tribes. The chief event of the session was a discussion of the present Indian policy of the government, especially with reference to the education of the children of the red men.

SENATE, June 23.—During the morning hour a bill was passed for the development and encouragement of silk culture in the United States under the supervision of the secretary of agriculture. (It directs the secretary of agriculture to establish five silk experiment stations and appoint five experts in the rearing of silkworms.) The wool schedule of the tariff bill was debated during the rest of the day.

HOUSE.—Consideration of the Indian appropriation bill occupied the entire day. The session being spent in discussing the ability of the superintendent of the Indian schools. Two amendments were offered to the item of the bill relating to the salary of the superintendent, $5,000 and the other to abolish the office. Both were rejected.

SENATE, June 24.—Discussion of the wool schedule of the tariff bill resumed. Mr. Teller's amendment to adopt the McKinley classification and rates in the first paragraph of the wool schedule was defeated by a vote of 29 yeas to 67 nays. A good many votes were taken upon amendments, and while all were rejected, one of them came very near being carried. It was an amendment by Mr. Peffer to substitute the McKinley classification of woolen goods (reduced 50 per cent.) and the vote upon it was—yeas 33, nays 35. The bill providing for the deficiency in the appropriations for the government printing office was passed and the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—A resolution was reported from the committee on rules directing the immediate consideration of the Indian appropriation bill under the five-minute rule. The resolution as amended fixing 3:30 o'clock, June 25, as the hour for closing debate on the Indian appropriation bill, was passed—yeas 178, nays 75. The evening session was devoted to private pension bills.

SENATE, June 25.—Fair progress was made in the consideration of the tariff bill today. Mr. Peffer's amendment to admit all woolen manufactures free of duty (in retaliation for putting raw wool on the free list) only received his own vote and those of two other populists (Senators Allen and Kyle). From that on through the schedule there was very little action or delay. Then the silk schedule was taken up and disposed of except as to the first paragraph, spun silk and silk velvets which were reserved until the 15th. Schedule M—pulp, paper and books—having been reached, the bill was laid aside and the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Indian appropriation bill was finally disposed of substantially as reported to the house by the committee on Indian affairs. The provision in the bill directing the transfer of the Indian warehouse and purchasing agency from New York to Chicago was stricken out. The bill was passed by a vote of 25 to 21.

SENATE, June 26.—Fair progress was made with the tariff bill today. The senate disposed of schedule M—pulp, paper and books—also the succeeding schedules, sundries. The free list was then reached and the bill moved to print on the free list. After a long and exciting debate the motion was rejected by 51 to 7, and the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—A bill was passed authorizing the railroad companies to issue interchangeable 5,000-mile mileage tickets, with the privilege of excess baggage requested by the National Association of Commercial Travelers. The anti-trust bill was then taken up in committee. Of the whole and the day was consumed in debate by the friends and opponents of the measure.

WASHINGTON.

The new forms of money order blank are now being sent by the post office department to the 39,000 money order offices in the United States. They are being sent at the rate of 10,000 a day and work is expected to continue a week longer. About 700 new money order offices will be established throughout the country in the beginning of next month.

Commodore J. Eastley, U. S. N., retired, died on the 18th at his home in Washington, aged 75 years. He was an inspector of government gunboats during the late war, and subsequently became a naval constructor. During President Garfield's administration, he was appointed chief of the bureau of construction and repair of the navy department, with the relative rank of commodore.
